

E. Douglas Pratt-Thomas

Special Counsel

Douglas Pratt-Thomas concentrates his practice in the areas of health care law, professional malpractice law, alternative dispute resolution, civil litigation, and trial and appellate law. A Charleston native, he is a past president of the Charleston County Bar Association, past chair of the Sullivan's Island Planning and Zoning Commission, and a former judge in the Town of Sullivan's Island.

Mr. Pratt-Thomas was also President of the Charleston Chapter of the American Board of Trial Advocates (ABOTA).

Education

University of Virginia, B.A., 1973

University of South Carolina School of Law, J.D., 1976

Memberships

- South Carolina Law Review, editorial board (1973-1976)
- South Carolina Bar, Chairman, Worker's Compensation Section (2000)

Office: 843.727.2212

Fax: 843.737.8584

Offices

Charleston, SC

Areas of Concentration

Healthcare

Insurance Defense

Professional Liability

Dispute Resolution

Mediation

Appellate Advocacy

Litigation

Admissions

South Carolina

United States District Court for the District of South Carolina

United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit

- Charleston County Bar Association, President (2002); Executive Committee (1985, 1994, 1996, 2000 and 2001)
- South Carolina Defense Trial Attorneys Association
- South Carolina Council of Mediation and Alternative Dispute Resolution (certified mediator)
- United States District Court for the District of South Carolina (certified mediator)
- American Board of Trial Advocates, President of Charleston Chapter 2014-2015
- South Carolina Super Lawyers Honoree -2014-2016

Community Involvement

- Past Chairman, Planning and Zoning Commission, Town of Sullivan's Island, S.C.
- Past President/Board Member, South Carolina Center for Birds of Prey
- Past President/Board Member, Hospice of Charleston, Inc.
- Former Judge, Town of Sullivan's Island, S.C.